

SWING LESS HARD

FROM DIGGING DEEPER VIDEO #106

As jazz musicians, we know that our job is to swing HARD. The thing that many players don't understand, however, is that the definition of "swing" changes from tempo to tempo. Swinging at mm = 90 is entirely different than swinging at mm = 250. This mistake gets made all the time by the adult amateurs I work with, including those who have listened to jazz for four or five decades. In short, the faster the tempo, the straighter our 8th notes feel.

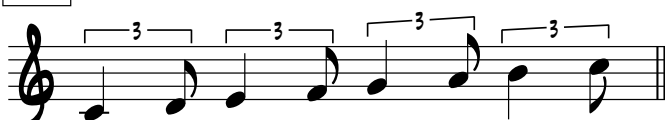

#1

#2

#3

A triplet feel is quite strong at a slow tempo, but it goes away at faster tempos. Swing songs at fast tempos are essentially played "straight."

#4 - The 106 Blues (a hit song by Jeff Antoniuk)

The 106 Blues (in Bb)

2

D7 G7 D7 D7 A7 D7

The 106 Blues (in Eb)

A7 D7 A7 D7 E7 A7

The 106 Blues (in bass clef)

C7 F7 C7 G7 C7